

Start Saving "Now... Only 142 Days 'Till"

CHRISTMAS

It's not too early to think of Christmas shopping! Piggly Wiggly has a way to help you miss the crowds and save money, too! The "S & H" Green Stamps you get on every dime you spend at Piggly Wiggly may be redeemed for wonderful nationally advertised gifts. Pick up your catalogue and start saving TODAY!

Prices effective Friday & Saturday, August 5 & 6

PICTURE CUT
GREEN BEANS 9 Oz. 23c
DERBY—SWEET, SOUR, DILL
KOSHER PICKLES 15 Oz. Jar 25c
HERSHEY
COCOA 1 Lb. Can 39c
PEANUTS COCKTAIL 8 Oz. Can 35c
JOHNSON'S
GLO-COAT 1 Gal. 1.49
STOKELY
APPLE SAUCE 303 Can 19c
STOKELY
FRUIT COCKTAIL 303 Can 25c
HILL OF HOME
BLACK EYE PEAS 10 Oz. Can 23c

57c Size
VITALIS
59c Size
MUM-MIST
$1.16 Value
NOW Both For
89c
Plus Tax

SNOWMAN
MILK SOAP
IVORY
1/2 Gallon
Homo
Personal
Size Bars

Garden Fresh PRODUCE Every Day!

U. S. NO. 1
Carrots 2 1 Lb. Bogs 19c
FANCY TENDER KENTUCKY WONDER
Beans 2 Lbs. 29c
U. S. NO. 1 CALIFORNIA RED
Malaga Grapes Lb. 19c
U. S. PECOS VALLEY
Cantaloupes Lb. 8c
EXTRA RICH CUBAN—LARGE SIZE
Avocados Each 12c

D&W SMOKED CURED
HAMS
SHANK PORTION Lb. 43c
BUTT PORTION Lb. 49c

GRAIN FED BABY BEEF
CHUCK ROAST Lb. 35c
GROUND BEEF Lb. 25c
SALT JOWLS Lb. 23c
SWISS CHEESE KRAFT'S 6 Oz. Pkg. 35c
SALT BACON BRANDIED Lb. 29c
STEW MEAT Lb. 19c

PORK CHOPS
END CUT Lb. 49c
CENTER CUT Lb. 59c

FRESH AND CORN - FED!

PORK CHOPS

STURGEON BAY PITTED

CHERRIES
KEN-L-RATION
DOG FOOD
DON RIO
TOMATOES

41c
25c
PLASTIC
WADING POOLS
3.95
Guaranteed
Inflatable
Assorted Colors
Regular $5.00 Value

6 14 Oz. Forest Green
ICE TEA TUMBLERS
1 86 Oz. Forest Green
ICE TEA PITCHER
A Regular $1.79 Value NOW—
7 - Piece Set 98c

MEAT
12oz. CAN
20c
TUNA
1/2s CAN
19c
Lucky Strike

PIGGLY WIGGLY
WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO LIMIT QUANTITIES

To City Subscribers:

If you fail to get your Star please telephone 7-3431 by 6 p. m. and a special carrier will deliver your paper.

56TH YEAR, VOL. 56—NO. 251

Star of Hope 1899, Page 1, 1922 Consolidated Jan. 16, 1929

HOPE, ARKANSAS, FRIDAY, AUGUST 5, 1955

Weather Forecast: Partly cloudy with showers and thunderstorms Saturday, with heavy showers and rain Sunday. High 80, low 60, precipitation 1/2 inch.

PRICE 5¢ COPY

Citizens Will
Rebuild, Enlarge
Banking House

Citizens National Bank has begun construction on a new and enlarged banking house comprising the present structure at Second and Elm sts. and the newly-acquired building just south of it.

The completed structure will be the bank's present floor space. The main entrance will be shifted farther south on Elm st. and the pattern of the building will find the tellers' windows on the left and the officers' quarters on the right. Behind the tellers' counters and running the length of the purchased building will be a long bookkeeping room.

At the rear, or west end, of the banking house two new vaults will be constructed, increasing present vault capacity two and a half times. And on the second side of the building, at the rear, there will be a new and improved bank of patrons' lock-boxes with booths provided for customer privacy. The lock-box section will be reached by an additional door opening on Second st. near the rear of the banking quarters.

An employees' lounge is also provided in the building program. The work will cover not only the banking house proper but the second floor also. The stairway will be rearranged, and an automatic elevator installed for the convenience of office tenants above the bank.

The entire building will be provided with central heat and air conditioning.

Autopsy Shows
Arsenic Traces

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arsenic was found in the body of 4-year-old Beverly Nabours, but state Medical Examiner Anderson Nettleship says he isn't sure that it was the cause of her death.

Earlier Dr. Nettleship said the girl had meningitis.

The girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Nabours of Morrilton, died July 23 while visiting friends at Fort Smith. She was buried two days later, but an autopsy was ordered and the body was examined and sent to Little Rock.

The Corps of Engineers, Vicksburg, Miss., reports that all the easements, rights-of-way and access permits have been obtained for the channel improvement and cut-off improvement work on Little Missouri River and Ozan Creek, that the publications for bids is being made and the work should start soon on this badly needed project for which many of the officials and citizens in Hempstead, Nevada, Pike Clark and Ouchitua Counties have worked so long.

The U. S. Engineers require the County to furnish all the rights of way, etc., free of any possible claim of the necessary parties against the Federal Gov't, and County Judge J. G. Garrett has given much time and attention to the project with the assistance of Clifford Byers as curative agent and Royce Weisenberger as attorney.

All land titles have to be absolutely hidden the state against the Federal Gov't, and County Judge J. G. Garrett has given much time and attention to the project with the assistance of Clifford Byers as curative agent and Royce Weisenberger as attorney.

Judge Garrett desires to express his appreciation to all the interested folks who have cooperated so well to make possible the easements, etc., with a minimum of litigation. All Arkansas residents are urged to sign up voluntarily. All lienholders voluntarily subrogated their liens.

J. L. Roselle, Chief, Real Estate Division, Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, Vicksburg, Miss., wrote Judge Garrett, Mr. Byers and Mr. Weisenberger as follows:

"It is desired to take this means of commending you and your County for the excellent accomplishment in connection with this matter and as an expression of our appreciation for the time cooperation we received and for the many courtesies extended."

The Air Force, which had carefully hidden the truth from him Thursday, broke the news to him that his wife, Mrs. W. J. Schmidt, had married another man. In the mistaken belief he was dead, he had told before the airman arrived here on the second leg of his journey home.

Schmidt came to place an international telephone call to his wife as soon as he departed, with the other 10, from the plane which landed here on Clark field, the Philippines.

The straight airman didn't even have to open two packages delivered to him by the Red Cross. Red Cross officials said they could not disclose whether either package was from his wife, who now is living as Mrs. Una Fine, of Col. Grove, Calif.

Air Force officials, who refused to let the airman talk to newsmen, said it was decided to breast the unhappy news to Schmidt on the flight here from the Philippines.

All the freed airman were sent to the air base hospital for a check-up. Presumably, the flight was first to arrive down the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to arrive down the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to arrive down the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to arrive down the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to arrive down the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

Work to Start
Soon on Ozan
Creek Channel

The Corps of Engineers, Vicksburg, Miss., reports that all the easements, rights-of-way and access permits have been obtained for the channel improvement and cut-off improvement work on Little Missouri River and Ozan Creek, that the publications for bids is being made and the work should start soon on this badly needed project for which many of the officials and citizens in Hempstead, Nevada, Pike Clark and Ouchitua Counties have worked so long.

The U. S. Engineers require the County to furnish all the rights of way, etc., free of any possible claim of the necessary parties against the Federal Gov't, and County Judge J. G. Garrett has given much time and attention to the project with the assistance of Clifford Byers as curative agent and Royce Weisenberger as attorney.

All land titles have to be absolutely hidden the state against the Federal Gov't, and County Judge J. G. Garrett has given much time and attention to the project with the assistance of Clifford Byers as curative agent and Royce Weisenberger as attorney.

Judge Garrett desires to express his appreciation to all the interested folks who have cooperated so well to make possible the easements, etc., with a minimum of litigation. All Arkansas residents are urged to sign up voluntarily. All lienholders voluntarily subrogated their liens.

J. L. Roselle, Chief, Real Estate Division, Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, Vicksburg, Miss., wrote Judge Garrett, Mr. Byers and Mr. Weisenberger as follows:

"It is desired to take this means of commending you and your County for the excellent accomplishment in connection with this matter and as an expression of our appreciation for the time cooperation we received and for the many courtesies extended."

The Air Force, which had carefully hidden the truth from him Thursday, broke the news to him that his wife, Mrs. W. J. Schmidt, had married another man. In the mistaken belief he was dead, he had told before the airman arrived here on the second leg of his journey home.

Schmidt came to place an international telephone call to his wife as soon as he departed, with the other 10, from the plane which landed here on Clark field, the Philippines.

The straight airman didn't even have to open two packages delivered to him by the Red Cross. Red Cross officials said they could not disclose whether either package was from his wife, who now is living as Mrs. Una Fine, of Col. Grove, Calif.

Air Force officials, who refused to let the airman talk to newsmen, said it was decided to breast the unhappy news to Schmidt on the flight here from the Philippines.

All the freed airman were sent to the air base hospital for a check-up. Presumably, the flight was first to arrive down the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to arrive down the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to arrive down the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to arrive down the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to arrive down the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to arrive down the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to arrive down the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to arrive down the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

Strange Ways of Mother Nature
Disturbances
Reported in Transit Strike

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Police reported two disturbances on the Capitol Transit Co. buses here today.

Conflicting versions of the incidents told of name calling, pushing, use of fists and drawing of a knife.

A non-union student bus driver, Tommy Tiddle, Little Rock, was hospitalized. He was not believed injured seriously. Two men were picked up for questioning.

Jack Benson, North Little Rock, non-union driver of the bus in which Tiddle was riding, told police two men boarded the vehicle and called the drivers "scabs."

The drivers said the men called Benson a "scab" and struck him with a "cane" and a "baton." Benson said the men were picked up for questioning.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Midwest Hopes Cool
Front Will Move in

By United Press
Midwesterners hoped against hope today that a cool front in the Northern Plains would punch its way through a record-breaking heat wave.

If the cool air can make it, it will be the first big break in the oppressive heat which has baked the nation from the Atlantic to the Gulf of Mexico for more than a week.

Conflicting versions of the incidents told of name calling, pushing, use of fists and drawing of a knife.

A non-union student bus driver, Tommy Tiddle, Little Rock, was hospitalized. He was not believed injured seriously. Two men were picked up for questioning.

Jack Benson, North Little Rock, non-union driver of the bus in which Tiddle was riding, told police two men boarded the vehicle and called the drivers "scabs."

The drivers said the men called Benson a "scab" and struck him with a "cane" and a "baton." Benson said the men were picked up for questioning.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Police detained for questioning two men found near the bus. They were identified by officers as J. C. Peterson, Little Rock, and E. M. Kidd, North Little Rock.

Bulgarian Opens
Way for Swap
of Military Data

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Bulganin today said his government was continuing to study the Soviet Union's proposal for an exchange of military information and technical data.

Bulganin told the Supreme Soviet that the proposal was "not yet mature" but that it was being studied.

Bulganin said the proposal was "not yet mature" but that it was being studied.

Bulganin said the proposal was "not yet mature" but that it was being studied.

Bulganin said the proposal was "not yet mature" but that it was being studied.

Bulganin said the proposal was "not yet mature" but that it was being studied.

Bulganin said the proposal was "not yet mature" but that it was being studied.

Bulganin said the proposal was "not yet mature" but that it was being studied.

Bulganin said the proposal was "not yet mature" but that it was being studied.

Bulganin said the proposal was "not yet mature" but that it was being studied.

Bulganin said the proposal was "not yet mature" but that it was being studied.

Bulganin said the proposal was "not yet mature" but that it was being studied.

Bulganin said the proposal was "not yet mature" but that it was being studied.

Bulganin said the proposal was "not yet mature" but that it was being studied.

Bulganin said the proposal was "not yet mature" but that it was being studied.

Bulganin said the proposal was "not yet mature" but that it was being studied.

Bulganin said the proposal was "not yet mature" but that it was being studied.

Bulganin said the proposal was "not yet mature" but that it was being studied.

Pilot Made
Try to Land
Plane Safely

By RENE J. CAPRON
FT. LEONARD WOOD, Mo. (AP)—A pilot, whose plane crashed against a tree, tried to land safely after a crash landing yesterday.

The plane, a C-47, was flying over a field near Fort Leonard Wood when it crashed against a tree. The pilot, who was not injured, tried to land safely after the crash.

The plane, a C-47, was flying over a field near Fort Leonard Wood when it crashed against a tree. The pilot, who was not injured, tried to land safely after the crash.

The plane, a C-47, was flying over a field near Fort Leonard Wood when it crashed against a tree. The pilot, who was not injured, tried to land safely after the crash.

The plane, a C-47, was flying over a field near Fort Leonard Wood when it crashed against a tree. The pilot, who was not injured, tried to land safely after the crash.

The plane, a C-47, was flying over a field near Fort Leonard Wood when it crashed against a tree. The pilot, who was not injured, tried to land safely after the crash.

The plane, a C-47, was flying over a field near Fort Leonard Wood when it crashed against a tree. The pilot, who was not injured, tried to land safely after the crash.

The plane, a C-47, was flying over a field near Fort Leonard Wood when it crashed against a tree. The pilot, who was not injured, tried to land safely after the crash.

The plane, a C-47, was flying over a field near Fort Leonard Wood when it crashed against a tree. The pilot, who was not injured, tried to land safely after the crash.

The plane, a C-47, was flying over a field near Fort Leonard Wood when it crashed against a tree. The pilot, who was not injured, tried to land safely after the crash.

The plane, a C-47, was flying over a field near Fort Leonard Wood when it crashed against a tree. The pilot, who was not injured, tried to land safely after the crash.

The plane, a C-47, was flying over a field near Fort Leonard Wood when it crashed against a tree. The pilot, who was not injured, tried to land safely after the crash.

The plane, a C-47, was flying over a field near Fort Leonard Wood when it crashed against a tree. The pilot, who was not injured, tried to land safely after the crash.

The plane, a C-47, was flying over a field near Fort Leonard Wood when it crashed against a tree. The pilot, who was not injured, tried to land safely after the crash.

The plane, a C-47, was flying over a field near Fort Leonard Wood when it crashed against a tree. The pilot, who was not injured, tried to land safely after the crash.

The plane, a C-47, was flying over a field near Fort Leonard Wood when it crashed against a tree. The pilot, who was not injured, tried to land safely after the crash.

The plane, a C-47, was flying over a field near Fort Leonard Wood when it crashed against a tree. The pilot, who was not injured, tried to land safely after the crash.

The plane, a C-47, was flying over a field near Fort Leonard Wood when it crashed against a tree. The pilot, who was not injured, tried to land safely after the crash.

Line Up GOPs,
Democrats
Tell President

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Several Senate Democrats challenged President Eisenhower today to line up Republican support if he wants Congress to pass programs he terms vital to the nation's well-being.

Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday, "I would be completely futile on my part to say that in this... domestic field we have as successful in this past Congress as we should have been."

He said he has not dismissed the possibility that a special session might be needed to deal with highway legislation, but that he has made no decision.

When Congress met Tuesday, most GOP leaders were discounting the likelihood of a special session. Eisenhower's plans to be out of Washington for most of the next month or more, announced shortly after his news conference, indicated there would be no more before fall if he said.

He said it was "absolutely vital" that the Legislature act when they do come to Washington on school construction, health, highway and water resources legislation.

Sen. Kerry (D-Ohio) said that to the President had been able to enlist Republican support he already would have on his desk measures calling for an expanded highway program and for federal aid in construction of school buildings.

"Any time he will get half the Republicans on the line, Congress will pass a health program," Kerry declared.

Kerry and Senators Monroney (D-Calif.) and Humphrey (D-Minn.) condemned yesterday's action of the Federal Power Commission in granting the Idaho Power Co. permission to build three dams which would flood the site of the proposed Federal Hill Canyon project on the Idaho-Oregon border.

Kerry and Senators Monroney (D-Calif.) and Humphrey (D-Minn.) condemned yesterday's action of the Federal Power Commission in granting the Idaho Power Co. permission to build three dams which would flood the site of the proposed Federal Hill Canyon project on the Idaho-Oregon border.

Kerry and Senators Monroney (D-Calif.) and Humphrey (D-Minn.) condemned yesterday's action of the Federal Power Commission in granting the Idaho Power Co. permission to build three dams which would flood the site of the proposed Federal Hill Canyon project on the Idaho-Oregon border.

Kerry and Senators Monroney (D-Calif.) and Humphrey (D-Minn.) condemned yesterday's action of the Federal Power Commission in granting the Idaho Power Co. permission to build three dams which would flood the site of the proposed Federal Hill Canyon project on the Idaho-Oregon border.

Kerry and Senators Monroney (D-Calif.) and Humphrey (D-Minn.) condemned yesterday's action of the Federal Power Commission in granting the Idaho Power Co. permission to build three dams which would flood the site of the proposed Federal Hill Canyon project on the Idaho-Oregon border.

Kerry and Senators Monroney (D-Calif.) and Humphrey (D-Minn.) condemned yesterday's action of the Federal Power Commission in granting the Idaho Power Co. permission to build three dams which would flood the site of the proposed Federal Hill Canyon project on the Idaho-Oregon border.

Kerry and Senators Monroney (D-Calif.) and Humphrey (D-Minn.) condemned yesterday's action of the Federal Power Commission in granting the Idaho Power Co. permission to build three dams which would flood the site of the proposed Federal Hill Canyon project on the Idaho-Oregon border.

Kerry and Senators Monroney (D-Calif.) and Humphrey (D-Minn.) condemned yesterday's action of the Federal Power Commission in granting the Idaho Power Co. permission to build three dams which would flood the site of the proposed Federal Hill Canyon project on the Idaho-Oregon border.

Kerry and Senators Monroney (D-Calif.) and Humphrey (D-Minn.) condemned yesterday's action of the Federal Power Commission in granting the Idaho Power Co. permission to build three dams which would flood the site of the proposed Federal Hill Canyon project on the Idaho-Oregon border.

Kerry and Senators Monroney (D-Calif.) and Humphrey (D-Minn.) condemned yesterday's action of the Federal Power Commission in granting the Idaho Power Co. permission to build three dams which would flood the site of the proposed Federal Hill Canyon project on the Idaho-Oregon border.

Kerry and Senators Monroney (D-Calif.) and Humphrey (D-Minn.) condemned yesterday's action of the Federal Power Commission in granting the Idaho Power Co. permission to build three dams which would flood the site of the proposed Federal Hill Canyon project on the Idaho-Oregon border

Start Saving "Now... Only 142 Days 'Till"

CHRISTMAS

It's not too early to think of Christmas shopping! Piggly Wiggly has a way to help you miss the crowds and save money, too! The "S & H" Green Stamps you get on every dime you spend at Piggly Wiggly may be redeemed for wonderful nationally advertised gifts. Pick up your catalogue and start saving TODAY!

Prices effective Friday & Saturday, August 5 & 6

PICTURE CUT
GREEN BEANS 9 Oz. 23c
DERBY—SWEET, SOUR, DILL
KOSHER PICKLES 15 Oz. Jar 25c
HERSHEY
COCOA 1 Lb. Can 39c
PEANUTS COCKTAIL 8 Oz. Can 35c
JOHNSON'S
GLO-COAT 1 Gal. 1.49
STOKELY
APPLE SAUCE 303 Can 19c
STOKELY
FRUIT COCKTAIL 303 Can 25c
HILL OF HOME
BLACK EYE PEAS 10 Oz. Can 23c

57c Size
VITALIS
59c Size
MUM-MIST
$1.16 Value
NOW Both For
89c
Plus Tax

SNOWMAN
MILK SOAP
IVORY
1/2 Gallon Homo
Personal Size Bars

Garden Fresh PRODUCE Every Day!

U. S. NO. 1
Carrots 2 1 Lb. Bogs 19c
FANCY TENDER KENTUCKY WONDER
Beans 2 Lbs. 29c
U. S. NO. 1 CALIFORNIA RED
Malaga Grapes Lb. 19c
U. S. PECOS VALLEY
Cantaloupes Lb. 8c
EXTRA RICH CUBAN—LARGE SIZE
Avocados Each 12c

D&W SMOKED CURED
HAMS
SHANK PORTION Lb. 43c
BUTT PORTION Lb. 49c

GRAIN FED BABY BEEF
CHUCK ROAST Lb. 35c
GROUND BEEF Lb. 25c
SALT JOWLS Lb. 23c
SWISS CHEESE KRAFT'S 6 Oz. Pkg. 35c
SALT BACON BRANDIED Lb. 29c
STEW MEAT Lb. 19c

FRESH AND CORN - FED!
PORK CHOPS
END CUT Lb. 49c
CENTER CUT Lb. 59c

STURGEON BAY PITTED
CHERRIES No. 303 Can 19c
KEN-L-RATION
DOG FOOD 1 Pound Cans 79c
DON RIO
TOMATOES No. 303 Can 10c

PLASTIC
WADING POOLS 3.95
Guaranteed Inflatable Assorted Colors Regular $5.00 Value

6 14 Oz. Forest Green ICE TEA TUMBLERS
1 86 Oz. Forest Green ICE TEA PITCHER
A Regular $1.79 Value NOW—
7 - Piece Set 98c

RATH'S LUNCHEON
MEAT 12oz. CAN 29c
Lucky Strike
TUNA 1/2 5 CAN 19c

PIGGLY WIGGLY
WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO LIMIT QUANTITIES

To City Subscribers:

If you fail to get your Star please telephone 7-3431 by 6 p. m. and a special carrier will deliver your paper.

56TH YEAR, VOL. 56—NO. 251

Star of Hope 1899, Page 1922 Consolidated Jan. 16, 1955

HOPE, ARKANSAS, FRIDAY, AUGUST 5, 1955

Weather Forecast
Arkansas: Partly cloudy with showers and thunderstorms Saturday, with heavy showers and thunderstorms Sunday. High 80, low 60, precipitation 1/2 inch.

PRICE 5¢ COPY

Citizens Will
Rebuild, Enlarge
Banking House

Citizens National Bank has begun construction on a new and enlarged banking house comprising the present structure at Second and Elm sts. and the newly-acquired building just south of it.

The completed structure will be the bank's present floor space. The main entrance will be shifted farther south on Elm st. and the pattern of the building will find the tellers' windows on the left and the officers' quarters on the right. Behind the tellers' counters and running the length of the purchased building will be a long bookkeeping room.

At the rear, or west end, of the banking house two new vaults will be constructed, increasing present vault capacity two and a half times. And on the second side of the building, at the rear, there will be a new and improved bank of patrons' lock-boxes with booths provided for customer privacy. The lock-box section will be reached by an additional door opening on Second st. near the rear of the building.

An employees' lounge is also provided in the building program. The work will cover not only the banking house proper but the second floor also. The stairway will be rearranged, and an automatic elevator installed for the convenience of office tenants above the bank. The entire building will be provided with central heat and air conditioning.

Autopsy Shows
Arsenic Traces

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arsenic was found in the body of 4-year-old Beverly Nabours, but state Medical Examiner Anderson Nettleship says he isn't sure that it was the cause of her death.

Earlier Dr. Nettleship said the girl had meningitis.

The girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Nabours of Morrilton, died July 23 while visiting friends at Fort Smith. She was buried two days later, but an autopsy was ordered and the body was examined and sent to Little Rock.

The Corps of Engineers, Vicksburg, Miss., reports that all the easements, rights-of-way and access permits have been obtained for the channel improvement and cut-off improvement work on Little Missouri River and Ozan Creek, that the publications for bids is being made and the work should start soon on this badly needed project for which many of the officials and citizens in Hempstead, Nevada, Pike Clark and Ouchitua Counties have worked so long.

The U. S. Engineers require the County to furnish all the rights of way, etc., free of any possible claim of the necessary parties against the Federal Gov't, and County Judge J. G. Garrett has given much time and attention to the project with the assistance of Clifford Byers as curative agent and Royce Weisenberger as attorney.

All land titles have to be absolutely hidden the state against the Federal Gov't, and County Judge J. G. Garrett has given much time and attention to the project with the assistance of Clifford Byers as curative agent and Royce Weisenberger as attorney.

Judge Garrett desires to express his appreciation to all the interested folks, who have cooperated so well to make possible the easements, etc., with a minimum of litigation. All Arkansas residents are urged to sign up voluntarily. All lienholders voluntarily subrogated their liens.

J. L. Roselle, Chief, Real Estate Division, Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, Vicksburg, Miss., wrote Judge Garrett, Mr. Byers and Mr. Weisenberger as follows:

"It is desired to take this means of commending you and your County for the excellent accomplishment in connection with this matter and as an expression of our appreciation for the time, cooperation and effort which you have expended in this project."

The governor announced that the commutations yesterday.

The three who were in bids for shortened sentences were rejected as James Masters, Earnie Fiveash, Jr., and John B. Baughman.

Masters' life sentence for first degree murder was reduced to 30 years, making him eligible for parole. The sentences of Fiveash and Baughman, who were serving life terms for assault with intent to rape, were reduced to two years. The Parole Board already has approved their paroles.

Other commutations were: Curtis Calhoun, 15 years, Garland County, first degree murder, reduced to seven years.

Fred Humphrey, 21 years, Columbia County, carnal abuse, reduced to five years.

Henry Thomas, five years, Chicot County, voluntary manslaughter, reduced to parole eligibility.

On the program were bands from Prescott and Morrilton Springs and a trio from Morrilton which the Air Force said "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to stride down the ramp. He was followed by the other 10, all looking tired but crisp in their newly issued Air Force uniforms.

William H. Baumer, who had his arm amputated while a prisoner, kept up with the others despite his crutches, as they filed out past white helmeted Air Force police.

Work to Start
Soon on Ozan
Creek Channel

The Corps of Engineers, Vicksburg, Miss., reports that all the easements, rights-of-way and access permits have been obtained for the channel improvement and cut-off improvement work on Little Missouri River and Ozan Creek, that the publications for bids is being made and the work should start soon on this badly needed project for which many of the officials and citizens in Hempstead, Nevada, Pike Clark and Ouchitua Counties have worked so long.

The U. S. Engineers require the County to furnish all the rights of way, etc., free of any possible claim of the necessary parties against the Federal Gov't, and County Judge J. G. Garrett has given much time and attention to the project with the assistance of Clifford Byers as curative agent and Royce Weisenberger as attorney.

All land titles have to be absolutely hidden the state against the Federal Gov't, and County Judge J. G. Garrett has given much time and attention to the project with the assistance of Clifford Byers as curative agent and Royce Weisenberger as attorney.

Judge Garrett desires to express his appreciation to all the interested folks, who have cooperated so well to make possible the easements, etc., with a minimum of litigation. All Arkansas residents are urged to sign up voluntarily. All lienholders voluntarily subrogated their liens.

J. L. Roselle, Chief, Real Estate Division, Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, Vicksburg, Miss., wrote Judge Garrett, Mr. Byers and Mr. Weisenberger as follows:

"It is desired to take this means of commending you and your County for the excellent accomplishment in connection with this matter and as an expression of our appreciation for the time, cooperation and effort which you have expended in this project."

The governor announced that the commutations yesterday.

The three who were in bids for shortened sentences were rejected as James Masters, Earnie Fiveash, Jr., and John B. Baughman.

Masters' life sentence for first degree murder was reduced to 30 years, making him eligible for parole. The sentences of Fiveash and Baughman, who were serving life terms for assault with intent to rape, were reduced to two years. The Parole Board already has approved their paroles.

Other commutations were: Curtis Calhoun, 15 years, Garland County, first degree murder, reduced to seven years.

Fred Humphrey, 21 years, Columbia County, carnal abuse, reduced to five years.

Henry Thomas, five years, Chicot County, voluntary manslaughter, reduced to parole eligibility.

On the program were bands from Prescott and Morrilton Springs and a trio from Morrilton which the Air Force said "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to stride down the ramp. He was followed by the other 10, all looking tired but crisp in their newly issued Air Force uniforms.

William H. Baumer, who had his arm amputated while a prisoner, kept up with the others despite his crutches, as they filed out past white helmeted Air Force police.

The bottom dropped out of the joyous homecoming today of Airman 2 Daniel C. Schmidt, one of the 11 U. S. airmen freed two years ago from captivity in Red China.

The Air Force, which had carefully hidden the truth from him until Thursday, broke the news to Schmidt that his "release" was not a surprise, but a reality.

Schmidt placed an intercomunicating telephone call to his wife as soon as he departed with the other 10, from the plane which landed here at Clark field, the Philippines.

The straight airmen didn't even have to open two packages delivered to him by the Red Cross. Red Cross officials said they could not disclose whether either package was from his wife, who now is living as Mrs. U. S. Fine, of Concord, Calif.

Air Force officials, who refused to let the airmen talk to newsmen, said it was decided to breast the unhappy news to Schmidt on the flight here from the Philippines.

All the freed airmen were sent to the air base hospital for a check-up. Presumably, the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to stride down the ramp. He was followed by the other 10, all looking tired but crisp in their newly issued Air Force uniforms.

William H. Baumer, who had his arm amputated while a prisoner, kept up with the others despite his crutches, as they filed out past white helmeted Air Force police.

The bottom dropped out of the joyous homecoming today of Airman 2 Daniel C. Schmidt, one of the 11 U. S. airmen freed two years ago from captivity in Red China.

The Air Force, which had carefully hidden the truth from him until Thursday, broke the news to Schmidt that his "release" was not a surprise, but a reality.

Schmidt placed an intercomunicating telephone call to his wife as soon as he departed with the other 10, from the plane which landed here at Clark field, the Philippines.

The straight airmen didn't even have to open two packages delivered to him by the Red Cross. Red Cross officials said they could not disclose whether either package was from his wife, who now is living as Mrs. U. S. Fine, of Concord, Calif.

Air Force officials, who refused to let the airmen talk to newsmen, said it was decided to breast the unhappy news to Schmidt on the flight here from the Philippines.

All the freed airmen were sent to the air base hospital for a check-up. Presumably, the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to stride down the ramp. He was followed by the other 10, all looking tired but crisp in their newly issued Air Force uniforms.

William H. Baumer, who had his arm amputated while a prisoner, kept up with the others despite his crutches, as they filed out past white helmeted Air Force police.

The bottom dropped out of the joyous homecoming today of Airman 2 Daniel C. Schmidt, one of the 11 U. S. airmen freed two years ago from captivity in Red China.

The Air Force, which had carefully hidden the truth from him until Thursday, broke the news to Schmidt that his "release" was not a surprise, but a reality.

Schmidt placed an intercomunicating telephone call to his wife as soon as he departed with the other 10, from the plane which landed here at Clark field, the Philippines.

The straight airmen didn't even have to open two packages delivered to him by the Red Cross. Red Cross officials said they could not disclose whether either package was from his wife, who now is living as Mrs. U. S. Fine, of Concord, Calif.

Air Force officials, who refused to let the airmen talk to newsmen, said it was decided to breast the unhappy news to Schmidt on the flight here from the Philippines.

All the freed airmen were sent to the air base hospital for a check-up. Presumably, the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to stride down the ramp. He was followed by the other 10, all looking tired but crisp in their newly issued Air Force uniforms.

William H. Baumer, who had his arm amputated while a prisoner, kept up with the others despite his crutches, as they filed out past white helmeted Air Force police.

The bottom dropped out of the joyous homecoming today of Airman 2 Daniel C. Schmidt, one of the 11 U. S. airmen freed two years ago from captivity in Red China.

The Air Force, which had carefully hidden the truth from him until Thursday, broke the news to Schmidt that his "release" was not a surprise, but a reality.

Schmidt placed an intercomunicating telephone call to his wife as soon as he departed with the other 10, from the plane which landed here at Clark field, the Philippines.

The straight airmen didn't even have to open two packages delivered to him by the Red Cross. Red Cross officials said they could not disclose whether either package was from his wife, who now is living as Mrs. U. S. Fine, of Concord, Calif.

Air Force officials, who refused to let the airmen talk to newsmen, said it was decided to breast the unhappy news to Schmidt on the flight here from the Philippines.

All the freed airmen were sent to the air base hospital for a check-up. Presumably, the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to stride down the ramp. He was followed by the other 10, all looking tired but crisp in their newly issued Air Force uniforms.

William H. Baumer, who had his arm amputated while a prisoner, kept up with the others despite his crutches, as they filed out past white helmeted Air Force police.

The bottom dropped out of the joyous homecoming today of Airman 2 Daniel C. Schmidt, one of the 11 U. S. airmen freed two years ago from captivity in Red China.

The Air Force, which had carefully hidden the truth from him until Thursday, broke the news to Schmidt that his "release" was not a surprise, but a reality.

Schmidt placed an intercomunicating telephone call to his wife as soon as he departed with the other 10, from the plane which landed here at Clark field, the Philippines.

The straight airmen didn't even have to open two packages delivered to him by the Red Cross. Red Cross officials said they could not disclose whether either package was from his wife, who now is living as Mrs. U. S. Fine, of Concord, Calif.

Air Force officials, who refused to let the airmen talk to newsmen, said it was decided to breast the unhappy news to Schmidt on the flight here from the Philippines.

All the freed airmen were sent to the air base hospital for a check-up. Presumably, the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to stride down the ramp. He was followed by the other 10, all looking tired but crisp in their newly issued Air Force uniforms.

William H. Baumer, who had his arm amputated while a prisoner, kept up with the others despite his crutches, as they filed out past white helmeted Air Force police.

The bottom dropped out of the joyous homecoming today of Airman 2 Daniel C. Schmidt, one of the 11 U. S. airmen freed two years ago from captivity in Red China.

The Air Force, which had carefully hidden the truth from him until Thursday, broke the news to Schmidt that his "release" was not a surprise, but a reality.

Schmidt placed an intercomunicating telephone call to his wife as soon as he departed with the other 10, from the plane which landed here at Clark field, the Philippines.

The straight airmen didn't even have to open two packages delivered to him by the Red Cross. Red Cross officials said they could not disclose whether either package was from his wife, who now is living as Mrs. U. S. Fine, of Concord, Calif.

Air Force officials, who refused to let the airmen talk to newsmen, said it was decided to breast the unhappy news to Schmidt on the flight here from the Philippines.

All the freed airmen were sent to the air base hospital for a check-up. Presumably, the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to stride down the ramp. He was followed by the other 10, all looking tired but crisp in their newly issued Air Force uniforms.

William H. Baumer, who had his arm amputated while a prisoner, kept up with the others despite his crutches, as they filed out past white helmeted Air Force police.

The bottom dropped out of the joyous homecoming today of Airman 2 Daniel C. Schmidt, one of the 11 U. S. airmen freed two years ago from captivity in Red China.

The Air Force, which had carefully hidden the truth from him until Thursday, broke the news to Schmidt that his "release" was not a surprise, but a reality.

Schmidt placed an intercomunicating telephone call to his wife as soon as he departed with the other 10, from the plane which landed here at Clark field, the Philippines.

The straight airmen didn't even have to open two packages delivered to him by the Red Cross. Red Cross officials said they could not disclose whether either package was from his wife, who now is living as Mrs. U. S. Fine, of Concord, Calif.

Air Force officials, who refused to let the airmen talk to newsmen, said it was decided to breast the unhappy news to Schmidt on the flight here from the Philippines.

All the freed airmen were sent to the air base hospital for a check-up. Presumably, the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to stride down the ramp. He was followed by the other 10, all looking tired but crisp in their newly issued Air Force uniforms.

William H. Baumer, who had his arm amputated while a prisoner, kept up with the others despite his crutches, as they filed out past white helmeted Air Force police.

The bottom dropped out of the joyous homecoming today of Airman 2 Daniel C. Schmidt, one of the 11 U. S. airmen freed two years ago from captivity in Red China.

The Air Force, which had carefully hidden the truth from him until Thursday, broke the news to Schmidt that his "release" was not a surprise, but a reality.

Schmidt placed an intercomunicating telephone call to his wife as soon as he departed with the other 10, from the plane which landed here at Clark field, the Philippines.

The straight airmen didn't even have to open two packages delivered to him by the Red Cross. Red Cross officials said they could not disclose whether either package was from his wife, who now is living as Mrs. U. S. Fine, of Concord, Calif.

Air Force officials, who refused to let the airmen talk to newsmen, said it was decided to breast the unhappy news to Schmidt on the flight here from the Philippines.

All the freed airmen were sent to the air base hospital for a check-up. Presumably, the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to stride down the ramp. He was followed by the other 10, all looking tired but crisp in their newly issued Air Force uniforms.

William H. Baumer, who had his arm amputated while a prisoner, kept up with the others despite his crutches, as they filed out past white helmeted Air Force police.

The bottom dropped out of the joyous homecoming today of Airman 2 Daniel C. Schmidt, one of the 11 U. S. airmen freed two years ago from captivity in Red China.

The Air Force, which had carefully hidden the truth from him until Thursday, broke the news to Schmidt that his "release" was not a surprise, but a reality.

Schmidt placed an intercomunicating telephone call to his wife as soon as he departed with the other 10, from the plane which landed here at Clark field, the Philippines.

The straight airmen didn't even have to open two packages delivered to him by the Red Cross. Red Cross officials said they could not disclose whether either package was from his wife, who now is living as Mrs. U. S. Fine, of Concord, Calif.

Air Force officials, who refused to let the airmen talk to newsmen, said it was decided to breast the unhappy news to Schmidt on the flight here from the Philippines.

All the freed airmen were sent to the air base hospital for a check-up. Presumably, the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to stride down the ramp. He was followed by the other 10, all looking tired but crisp in their newly issued Air Force uniforms.

William H. Baumer, who had his arm amputated while a prisoner, kept up with the others despite his crutches, as they filed out past white helmeted Air Force police.

The bottom dropped out of the joyous homecoming today of Airman 2 Daniel C. Schmidt, one of the 11 U. S. airmen freed two years ago from captivity in Red China.

The Air Force, which had carefully hidden the truth from him until Thursday, broke the news to Schmidt that his "release" was not a surprise, but a reality.

Schmidt placed an intercomunicating telephone call to his wife as soon as he departed with the other 10, from the plane which landed here at Clark field, the Philippines.

The straight airmen didn't even have to open two packages delivered to him by the Red Cross. Red Cross officials said they could not disclose whether either package was from his wife, who now is living as Mrs. U. S. Fine, of Concord, Calif.

Air Force officials, who refused to let the airmen talk to newsmen, said it was decided to breast the unhappy news to Schmidt on the flight here from the Philippines.

All the freed airmen were sent to the air base hospital for a check-up. Presumably, the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to stride down the ramp. He was followed by the other 10, all looking tired but crisp in their newly issued Air Force uniforms.

William H. Baumer, who had his arm amputated while a prisoner, kept up with the others despite his crutches, as they filed out past white helmeted Air Force police.

The bottom dropped out of the joyous homecoming today of Airman 2 Daniel C. Schmidt, one of the 11 U. S. airmen freed two years ago from captivity in Red China.

The Air Force, which had carefully hidden the truth from him until Thursday, broke the news to Schmidt that his "release" was not a surprise, but a reality.

Schmidt placed an intercomunicating telephone call to his wife as soon as he departed with the other 10, from the plane which landed here at Clark field, the Philippines.

The straight airmen didn't even have to open two packages delivered to him by the Red Cross. Red Cross officials said they could not disclose whether either package was from his wife, who now is living as Mrs. U. S. Fine, of Concord, Calif.

Air Force officials, who refused to let the airmen talk to newsmen, said it was decided to breast the unhappy news to Schmidt on the flight here from the Philippines.

All the freed airmen were sent to the air base hospital for a check-up. Presumably, the Air Force said, "might take three or four days."

On their arrival here, Col. John Knox Arnold, senior officer of the B-29 on which all 11 were sent down, was first to stride down the ramp. He was followed by the other 10, all looking tired but crisp in their newly issued Air Force uniforms.

William H. Baumer, who had his arm amputated while a prisoner, kept up with the others despite his crutches, as they filed out past white helmeted Air Force police.

The bottom dropped out of the joyous homecoming today of Airman 2 Daniel C. Schmidt, one of the 11 U. S. airmen freed two years ago from captivity in Red China.

The Air Force, which had carefully hidden the truth from him until Thursday, broke the news to Schmidt that his "release" was not a surprise, but a reality.

Schmidt placed an intercomunicating telephone call to his wife as soon as he departed with the other 10, from the plane which landed here at Clark field, the Philippines.

The straight airmen didn't even have to open two packages delivered to him by the Red Cross. Red Cross officials said they could not disclose whether either package was from his wife, who

56TH YEAR: VOL. 56 — NO. 251

100-443887-100

